“I’ve mediated more than 35 cases in front of various mediators. Mr. Klein is the most effective mediator I’ve ever encountered.”

- Weyman T. Johnson, Jr. Paul, Hastings, Janofsky & Walker, LLP

“I want to thank you again for the great job you did getting my client and her former employer to closure – in a clash that seemed unresolvable. You absolutely deserve combat pay!”

- Jeanne Bynum-Hipes Hipes Law, LLC

“At last we found something opposing counsel and I can agree on: you did a fabulous job!”

- Alex Drummond, Seyfarth Shaw, LLP

Experienced. Creative. Determined. Effective.

Dan Klein has mediated more than 500 cases and arbitrated over 100 more since he first served as a neutral in 1994. Since then, he has earned a reputation for fairness, flexibility, creativity, and “determination to succeed where others would have thrown in the towel.” The unflappable patience, compassion, and “interpersonal skills which extended beyond the realm of what a person can be taught” he brings to every mediation have made him one of the most highly regarded neutrals in the region.

Dan’s 30+ years as litigator representing parties in commercial cases and on both sides of employment disputes give him critically important insights that make him highly effective in settling even the most contentious cases. Dan regularly mediates cases for attorneys in firms of all types, from single-attorney local firms and in-house counsel to regional, national, and global corporate firms. Parties in his cases include individuals, large plaintiff classes, business organizations, professional groups, charitable organizations, government agencies, and global corporations.

“Considering the strong positions of the parties and demonstrated acrimony during the mediation, I believe the end product to be an extraordinary agreement.”

- Deborah L. Dance
Cobb County Attorney’s Office

“... you were the model mediator: informed, impartial, professional, insightful and, perhaps most importantly, effective.”

- Kenneth G. Menendez
Ellis Funk, P.C.
